

VETERANS OF 23D CONN. VOLS. PLAN TO REUNITE AUGUST 19

Annual Gathering of Survivors of Gallant Band Will Be at Savin Rock.

Survivors of the 23d Regiment, Conn. Vols., many of whose members enlisted from Bridgeport or vicinity for the Civil war, will hold their annual reunion at Wilcox's pier, Savin Rock, Thursday, August 19. The past year has dealt hardly with survivors of the "23rd" as it has with the veterans of the Civil war. Among the 12 members of the regiment who answered the last call this year was Maj. David H. Miller of Georgetown, life president of the Regimental association.

The election of his successor will be the principal business of the reunion. The business meeting will be held in the picture theatre at the pier at 11 o'clock sharp. A shore dinner will be enjoyed in the afternoon.

William H. Hine of Naugatuck in his notice to members of the meeting makes this appeal: "Our members are growing less each year. Close up and make the best showing possible."

The 23d Connecticut was mustered into the United States service in September, 1862. Two of its companies were from Bridgeport and one from Trumbull. The others were from nearby towns in this part of the state. Among the officers from this city were Lieut. Col. W. H. Hine, Capt. C. W. Hall, Capt. W. H. May, Lieut. J. Stevens, William H. Hine and others. Mr. Hine was for many years the business manager of the old Evening News. He now resides in Naugatuck. The other officers mentioned are dead. Among the survivors in this vicinity are William H. Hine of 208 Main street, who is nearly 90 years of age and is believed to be the oldest Bridgeport veteran of the Civil war and William C. and John Nichols and C. L. Plumb of Trumbull.

In November, 1862, the regiment was sent to New Orleans and assigned to the Department of the Gulf. It took part in the campaigns in Louisiana. In June, 1863, the regiment was at Brasher City guarding the railroad into New Orleans when Gen. Dick Taylor of the Confederate army made his raid, capturing the section of the railroad there and for a time cutting off New Orleans from railroad communication with that section of the state. At that time the companies of the regiment were taken prisoners.

The late Capt. W. H. May, who was ill at Terry House, La., was also taken prisoner at that time. He was with members of the other two companies spent more than a year in Confederate prison camps in Texas. Many of those captured died in prison.

From the responses that Secretary Hine has received, it is believed that a large number of the survivors of the regiment will attend the reunion.

SAYS BRIDGEPORTER EARLY MORN PARTY WERE INTOXICATED

Former Westport Representative Burr Testifies Against John Stine.

(Special to The Farmer.)

Hartford, Aug. 4.—John Stine of Bridgeport was called to account yesterday before Secretary of State Charles D. Burges for operating a motor vehicle at Westport very early on the morning of July 16, while under the influence of liquor. It was alleged at the hearing that not only he but all the party, including two women were intoxicated.

Former Representative from Westport, W. H. Burr testified against Stine. He said he had heard cries for help from the car and on investigating found an intoxicated party. An unusually large number of cases in which automobile drivers were charged with being under the influence of liquor at the time of accidents for which they were held responsible were before Secretary Burges. In addition to these cases, there were two in which drivers had killed pedestrians, one of them a case in which a young woman was killed and the other one in which an unidentified man was struck.

Operating a motor vehicle, while intoxicated, May 31, was a charge upon which Alfred W. Pierson of Bridgeport was convicted the next day. Pierson admitted drinking three glasses of beer on the day mentioned and said that it would be the last time. His license was returned after a warning to let liquor alone.

Secretary Burges suspended yesterday the license of Samuel Postol of 135 George street, who was a principal in an accident in which a car in Riverside park without a license. Postol said he had applied for a license but it was shown he had not done so until after the accident. Policeman James E. Bates testified against him and Superintendent Eugene Birmingham recommended that he be disqualified. The suspension is for 10 days.

William Harvard of Milford, was charged with getting a license in 1914 when under age. He admitted obtaining the license unbeknownst to his father, while under the required age, but claimed that he mistook the date of his birth recorded on a card in the possession of his mother, where the figure 4 looked like a 6. He denied reckless driving.

Reckless driving was the charge against Leslie C. Bell of Bantam, and referred to his doing "crazy and foolish things" aside from being reckless, whereby he was liable to injure not only himself but others. It was further set forth that "under his present condition he was unfit to touch the wheel." He did not appear.

Provision trains began arriving at Mexico City.

BRIDGEPORT LABOR UNIONS TO MARCH IN PARADE SEPT. 6

Men From All Over State Will Take Part in New Haven Celebration.

Organized labor in Bridgeport is taking active interest in the annual Labor Day parade, which this year will be held in New Haven, September 6. Under the auspices of the Central Labor union of this city, 24 unions have shown great enthusiasm and will attend in large numbers. The Carpenters' and Joiners' union, the largest in this city, has signified its intention of journeying to New Haven to the full strength of their organization. They will seek honor in the parade both in point of numbers and costume, which will be elaborate. White silk hats and suits to match, with blue emblems on the arms are expected to capture the prize for the best dressed organization.

Special trains will carry the various crafts from this city and the Wheeler & Wilson and Coast Artillery bands have already been engaged to head the aggregation.

Resists Detective And Is Sent to Jail

Sentence of 15 days for resisting a policeman and an additional sentence of 15 days for the theft of a banjo from the pawnshop of Joseph Long, 637 Water street, was meted out to Frank R. Thomas, a negro from Boston, in city court this morning. Thomas has appeared in the local court before, while being arrested last evening he resisted Detective Sgt. Peter Hall and according to Thomas in city court this morning, the officer "kicked him in the shins." Eddie Sullivan, another Bostoner, arrested on the charge of theft of 7 galvanized water pails, was given a like sentence.

Cogan Bound Over To Superior Court

Frank Cogan, 137 Catherine street, implicated in the theft of 300 ingots of copper, the property of the Bridgeport Brass Co., was bound over this morning to the Superior Court of the Superior court, under bonds of $1,000, by Judge Frederic A. Bartlett, in the city court. Cogan has made a confession of the theft to Assistant Prosecutor John P. Gray and for that reason his bond was reduced from $2,000 to $1,000. The confession implicates two other young men, one from New Haven and the other a local young man.

TOOLS ARE STOLEN.

John Davison, 555 William street, reported to the police this morning the theft of tools from his tool box at the Porcupine Boiler Co., where he works on Wordin avenue. It is believed that the theft was committed by two boys.

The case of Ernest LaPrae, Providence, R. I., charged in the city with train riding, was continued until August 7. LaPrae has a wife and child living in Providence, and it is believed he will be released Saturday morning with the advice to return to Rhode Island.

Want to Save Son From Reform School

The case of Thomas Bello, aged 15, 16 Church street, arranged in city court, this morning on the charge of theft of two automobile tires from the junk yard of Louis Pressman on Sterling street, was continued until tomorrow morning when his parents will appear in city court and give reasons why the boy should not be sentenced to the State Reform School at Meriden. Tommy has been under the care of Probation Officer A. W. Simpson, but the latter has been unable to control the young man and it is probable that he will be committed to the Reform School at tomorrow's session of city court.

Practically the entire population of Berlin attended thanksgiving services in the churches there to observe the first anniversary of the war.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Eva Hart who is soon to become the bride of Fred Lundie was the guest of honor at a linen shower given Monday evening at the home of Miss Catherine Reynolds of 1284 Penn-broke street. The party was a huge surprise to the bride-elect who received a number of handsome gifts for her future home. The usual dancing and singing and games were enjoyed and a delicious luncheon was served late in the evening. The guests: The Misses Angelina Mulligan, Rita McFarland, Helen Ryan, Marry O'Brien, Mary Roache, Anna Drucker, Lena Drucker, Elizabeth Gates, Myra Davis, Katherine Harnett, Elizabeth Leonard, Clara Curbey, Addie Corcoran, Mabel Nolan, Rose Sautter, Margaret Tait, Elizabeth Devitt, Mrs. Mary Leonard O'Connor, Mrs. Martin Hayden, Mrs. Arthur Gerstle, Mrs. E. Curbey, Mrs. T. Rivers, Mrs. Edward Hart, Mrs. James Nolan, Mrs. John Gaffney, Mrs. James Butler, Mrs.

Charles Blackman and Mrs. E. Griffin. It is claimed that a cannery should be attached to every farm, and as the farmer's wife will do the work after she has cooked, swept, washed, cleaned house, and milked the cows, it is considered clear profit. Wednesday will be observed as "Scrap of Paper" Day in Brussels. The population of the city will wear a piece of torn paper.
